

Franklin County Adult Probation Department Programming Survey

Please answer the following questions for all In-house Programs (Thinking Errors, Getting Motivated to Change, Day Reporting, Employment Services and Non-Support Employment Programs; as a reminder, women can be referred to the Alvis House Equip program in place of DRP and NEP).

1. Please rate the ease of the referral process for the programs:

Very easy Easy Difficult Very Difficult

2. How could the referral process be improved? _____

3. Please list suggestions for other needed programs/services at the Franklin County Adult Probation Department: _____

4. Are there enough options available for women to complete their CBT condition?

Yes No If no, please explain: _____

5. Would there be issues if the CBT classes were available less often for women?

Yes No If yes, please give specifics: _____

6. Do you have enough information to decide which CBT program is appropriate for each probationer?

I have no clue I would like more information I am confident to make this decision

7. What factors do you consider when making a decision as to which program you refer? _____

8. Do you have enough information to explain programs to probationers when making referrals?

I have no clue I would like more information I am confident to explain these programs

9. In your estimate, how many of your high/moderate risk offenders are ordered to complete CBT programming?

All Most Some Very few None

Thinking Errors/Getting Motivated to Change

1. How often do you refer individuals to Thinking Errors and/or Getting Motivated to Change?

At least once per month Once every few months Rarely Never

2. If you have not used the program, why not? _____

3. Are you able to place individuals into groups in a timely manner?

Always Sometimes Never

4. What would make you use these programs more often? _____

5. What do probationers tell you about their experiences in the programs? _____

6. What do you like the most about the programs? _____

7. What do you like least about the programs? _____

Day Reporting

1. How often do you refer individuals to DRP?

At least once per month Once every few months Rarely Never

2. How often do you refer individuals to the Anger Management Program in DRP?

At least once per month Once every few months Rarely Never

3. If you have not used the program, why not? _____

4. Are you able to place individuals into the program in a timely manner?

Always Sometimes Never

5. What would make you use this program more often? _____

5. What do probationers tell you about their experiences in the program? _____

6. What do you like the most about the program? _____

7. What do you like least about the program? _____

Employment Services

1. How often do you refer individuals to Employment Services?

At least once per month Once every few months Rarely Never

2. If you have not used the program, why not? _____

3. What would make you use this program more often? _____

4. What do probationers tell you about their experiences in the program? _____

Non-Support Employment Program

1. How often do you refer individuals to NEP?

At least once per month Once every few months Rarely Never

2. If you have not used the program, why not? _____

3. Are you able to place individuals into the program in a timely manner?

Always Sometimes Never

4. What would make you use this program more often? _____

5. What do probationers tell you about their experiences in the program? _____

6. What do you like the most about the program? _____

7. What do you like least about the program? _____

Thank you very much for your time and responses!